

(Pinion Offset is measured from any fixed point that is present on both sides (brake component, housing end, leaf spring), to center, subtract the small number from the large and divide that number in half)